Dear Charles, Glad to get your letter & know that we can fix up a meet sometime - I say soon because I shall have to cut out the Dalry visit next Friday & so also lunch with you as I had intended. For I have had to fix up a meet with a sub-editor that day in Westminster & as I shall be leading a group discussion in the evening must try & hold myself in - or I shall be staggering around like an old man of 70! But I'll drop you a line soon after Xmas when I've recovered from Xmas with my grandchildren!

It will be rather a shadowed Xmas for you all, but need not be less happy.
- & we shall be thinking of you & send our greetings for Xmas & the New Year.

I am, this Xmas, economizing on printed greetings for the first time ever! - this reluctantly! - for it means letter writing 'at the double'. Our best wishes again to Barbara - tell her there is a gleam of hope for her as she is marrying a Yorkshireman.

nature modesty & lack of pride in their country, inhibits them badly, & they don't recognize it!
