Dear Dorothy

After writing to you, my glasses came the next day Saturday, I was so pleased as I had looked for them for over a week.

We had a busy day yesterday, we took Michael to school at 9^o c. David to follow later by bus as it was speech day at Kent College. P + I had a shampoo + set. then coffee + made our way to the College. In the games field there were three or four hundred cars + the huge marquee was packed with people. The guest of honour was the Countess of Guilford who presented the prizes which were very few. Michael received one for English essay. The Countess made a delightful speech + then opened the new wing a fine building which will house about 40 new boarders.

We all had lunch in Canterbury + when we got home we all went to the Village Hall where there was a buying + buying sale. W. bought a brass bowl + a large white teapot etc. + I took a fancy to a very pretty little basin 3½ inch wide with a little plate to match, on the bottom it is marked. The Foley china, then a crown underneath. Will you tell me if you know anything about Foley china?

What I wanted to tell you was. I had an envelope in my bag when I came to stay with you that contained a 5 pound note you had given me + I think 3 pound notes I also had some notes I had saved to pay for a dress or suit that I might buy.
You remember I gave you a few notes as part of the cost of suit, but when I got home I find only a few days ago that notes are still there.

I don't think I am likely to have got muddled over money, so will you say if you know anything about it?
The boys have their exams next week & break up on the 13th - we shall then be off to the Bengali as the people ^{are} coming here on the 20th July.

I have at last got your bottle of Hennessy & paid for it out of your money. Shall you be down or shall I put it away until we return? or I am told we are all going to Besehill on Sunday & taking a pic-nic lunch at the bungalow perhaps you would come down if so please let me know & I will take the Hennessy with me.

I had a nice letter from Barbara & I think this week end they are at Yorkshire staying with Mr & Mrs Wolles. They seem to be getting about quite a lot, & Daley who good. We are in the garden today quite a treat, quite a treat to have it warm & sunny after the cool windy weather

I hope you & Charles are well I am feeling much better lately but still have a little pain at times. My love to you both Mother,
