Dear loony

Thanks for renewing your membership. I hope you like the new t-shirt.

2007 will be a fun-filled year for all. There are more local elections in England in May, and we expect to do very well as all of the non-loony parties are in such disarray. Please contact me if you would like to stand as a candidate - the local elections won't cost you anything as there is no deposit, and, if you haven't yet been a candidate, it's brilliant fun.

We will also see a new Labour leader. It will be difficult to make fun of Gordon Brown as he is so damn boring. But I'm sure we will enjoy the challenge. We might even send him a certificate of insanity when he wins.

We will also continue to use the website to consult both the party membership and the general unwashed British Public on key areas of party policy so that we are good and ready with a comprehensive set of radical new policy ideas for the next General Election. Any policy ideas regarding how to make Happy Dave Cameron turn into an amusingly-shaped root vegetable are particularly welcome.

And, of course the big one is the party conference, which in 2007 will be in JERSEY. This will be bigger, better, and loonier than any conference we've ever had, so check the website for details of how to get there and where to stay (or call me if you don't have a computer).

Wishing you a Loony 2007

Boney Maroney

Deputy Leader
